NEW SUMMER ON-LINE MUSIC CLASSES

(via Zoom)

From Your Brain to the Page

Rising 6th graders+ (4 - 8 students per class)

Teachers: Joel Lambdin & Patricia Santos

Dates / Times:

July 6 – 10,   1:30 pm – 2:30 pm Joel
        3:00 pm – 4:00 pm Patricia

July 13 – 17, 10:00 am – 11:00 am Joel
        11:30 am – 12:30 pm Patricia

July 20 –24,   10:00 am – 11:00 am Joel
        11:30 am – 12:30 pm Patricia

July 27 – 31, 10:00 am – 11:00 am Joel
        11:30 am – 12:30 pm Patricia

Tuition per week: $200 *

Are you interested in developing your ear and reading skills? Do you want to write your own songs? Spend a week with Joel and Patricia to learn how to get the music you can hear in your head onto the page - and from the page into the world! We'll teach you some rhythmic and ear training basics that will increase your performance ease and confidence.
These same skills can help you write melodies, set lyrics, and communicate your songs to others. On the theory side, learn ways to identify and notate simple rhythms and intervals, construct chords and scales, and make simple forms.
In songwriting sessions, we'll experiment with those rhythms and pitches as tools to help shape your lyrics.

Requirements:
    Mac/PC (with Zoom access)
    Manuscript Paper (downloadable)
    BandLab (Free and no need to download)

GarageBand

Teacher: Joel Lambdin

Sign up for a private lesson package of 4, 6, 8, or 10 x 1 hour lessons @ $80 an hour

If you have a Mac and always wanted to learn how to use it to make music or a podcast, GarageBand is for you. Free for Mac users, it is an industry standard Digital Audio Workstation (DAW) with a wide array of onboard electronic instruments, an extensive loop library, effects, processors, and the capability to record audio without external gear. Private lessons help you with personalized walkthroughs of specific features, feedback on your work, basic music theory and production concepts, as well as regular deadlines to help motivation. All geared towards your personal creative goals.

Requirements:
    Mac with GarageBand installed

* plus $15 registration fee for non-Bennett students